The celebration of Decoration Day at Harrison, O., will be a novel as well as an interesting departure from former customs. The veterans who are members of Grand Army of the Republic will be taken in charge by the citizens and driven in carriages to the speakers' stand, and afterward to the cemetery, where they will witness the decorating of the graves of their former comrades by the citizens of Harrison. It is said that this will be the first occasion where the old veterans will occupy the position of spectators.

AFTER spending $104,211.48 in the past fourteen years, Maysville has no better streets in 1901 than she had in 1801.

FOR the past fourteen years the city "streets" have cost an average of $7,500 a year. For $100,000 the streets of the entire city could be decently and substantially built, and the interest on $100,000 would be $4,000 a year—a clear saving of $5,500 a year, or enough in thirty years to pay off the bonds. It oughtn't to require a J. Pierpont Morgan to see the money sense in this proposition.

JUDGE BARKER of Louisville has a level head. He has instructed that the Firemen and Policemen of Louisville must sever their connection with political clubs, and the Board of Public Safety has issued an order to that effect. This will be hard on the "official" Ward heelers of the Falls City; but it is a step in the right direction. Men who are in the public service must be made to realize that they are the servants of the entire public and not of either political party.

THIS from The Louisville Post should be read in the quietude of twilight and powdered over in the solitude of thoughtfulness:

"Even a fair and impartial Goebel—and there are doubtless many Goebelites who are fair and impartial—will contend that there are an honest effort on the part of those in authority in Kentucky to secure an honest and impartial administration of the law. There was no game which was not played. Mr. Barker and the machine were pardoned as soon as they were convicted. Other convicted criminals in Louisville who have been of service to the bosses have been promptly pardoned by the Governor, while there has been no effort whatever to prosecute them for the violation of committing fraud at elections."

GEORGE F. WEAVER, one of CAMPBELL'S star witnesses in the Powers case, was shown, beyond all doubt, to have been a rank perjurer. He was indicted, and at the trial of the case the two Juors failed to agree. Weaver was then sent up to jail. After days on the case was called for a second time, but the strolling barber failed to appear. His bond of $200 was declared forfeited, and thus far no effort has been made to bring this criminal to justice. We will not hear of BECKHAM issuing a requisition for this man's apprehension, nor will we swear against the life of a fellowman."

At the same time for a Republican to have expressed the opinion that somebody would kill GOEBEL is sufficient to secure his indictment and his prolonged incarceration in jail and to put his life in jeopardy.

"Suppose any witness for any of the negroes in the Powers case is shown to be proven guilty of perjury. He would not have been permitted to get out of the clutches of the law, and would now be wearing stripes."

Though all the Southern states are well represented, Kentucky has the largest number of delegates in attendance at the Southern Baptist Convention, considering the distance to travel, there being eighty-four present out of a possible representation of 104.

The movement against the cigarette is assuming large proportions in Kentucky. The Executive Committee of the Anti-Cigarette League of Kentucky has divided itself into several committees, each to take up the warfare against the small "smokers" to the doors of the General Assembly, with a view to prohibitory legislation.

APPEAL FOR SIMPLE JUSTICE!

James B. Howard, Victim of a Monstrous Judicial Crime, Without Means of Defense.

THE PATHETIC STORY OF A GRIEVOUS WRONG

Lexington Leader.

Twelve months ago James B. Howard of Clay county was as free and, in his own estimation, as safe as any man in Kentucky. He went to Frankfort of his own free will and gave himself up to answer an indictment for the killing of William Goebel. Through the long hot summer he lay in the noisome cage of the Franklin County jail, condemned to die, tried before a partisan Judge, by a solidly partisan Jury, declared guilty and condemned to death.

In March of this year he was granted a new trial by the Appellate Court of Kentucky, the whole Bench concurring. A letter from his mother to a friend in Lexington says: "There was thankfulness in our hearts when we learned that he had been granted a new trial; that he much justice had been done at last."

"There was 'thanksgiving to God' in the Bluegrass also, and throughout the state, but the need for vigilance and helpfulness is not past.

He has since visited Howard since the reversal of the Franklin Circuit Court in his case have discovered that the sensitive pride of a brave and independent man had concealed—that he is without a dollar in the world and absolutely without means of preparing his defense. He was never a man of means, and his expenses of imprisonment, combined with the expenses of his trial last fall—a trial in which stenographer's fees alone amounted to $500—left him in a most desperate and deplorable condition.

His little home has been mortgaged. His wife and three children, the young wife of Jimmie, a boy, and his mother, his step-mother, live in Manchester, Clay county, and are unable, for want of means, even to be near the husband and father, who is "fast bound in misery and iron."

"I hear little Jim's the finest baby ever seen in Clay county, or anywhere else," says "Jim's" mother. "I have it from her that she is a mother, but she's not without corroborations, I got to see him once myself."

That short visit from his wife and babies is all that he has had, and that occurred just before he was taken to Louisville. Jimmie, a boy, and his mother, his step-mother, live in Manchester, Clay county, and are unable, for want of means, even to be near the husband and father, who is "fast bound in misery and iron."

Such articles influence the public mind as to the family's financial status, concerning George Baker, whom Howard killed: "Was he not an old man, unarmed, with his hands up, begging you for God's sake to spare him?" influenced, or may be supposed to have influenced, the Jury.

After The Post-Dispatch article, Jim Howard gave to the public his story of his trial, and the fact that he was not at that moment heard of the murder of his brother and his foster-brother, and as he believed, of his father, shot from ambush and left on the road. His brother, wounded to death, but not dead, called to his murderers "not to torture him before he died; not to shoot the flesh from his bones," while he lay dying.

Jim Howard tried to go to his death and dying. George Baker stood between them in the road. He shot him and passed on to the mutilated bodies of his dead, and to give his young strength to his sorely wounded father, whom he found to be alive.

This is the one charge that can be brought against him, and few men would be ashamed of his record in this matter. He is in no respect the rough, untidy "bad man" he is represented by the press of the presentation, with the stark and ghastly record of an unkind man, of good address and fine bearing. His speech is the careful, forcible English of a man who thinks more than he talks. His favorite books are Blackstone and the Bible, and Caleb Powers' companion ship and advice. He is reading law in the little upper room of his home.

At the time of his arrest he was Assessor of Clay county. Before that he had been Deputy Sheriff. He is respected by his neighbors, loved by his friends and adored by his family.

When such a man is arrested for purely political purposes, given trial by a military tribunal, and held for a year in a jail that is a shame to civilization it would seem that his defense became a public right and that money troubles should not add to the burden of his imprisonment and the inevitable anxieties of his condition. His wife and his known home to pray for their absent father, should not be tortured with fears lest the roof above them must be sold for their support and that father be deprived of any right for lack of money.

A Lexington gentleman, who had discovered the financial difficulties of Kentucky's Prisoners of State, said on the night Joe Jefferson played in Lexington:

"Joe Jefferson will carry out of town more money than is necessary to make these men comfortable in preparing their defense, and the press has never failed to point out when people care for pure pleasures; but it seems to me a sorrowful thing when they care more for pleasure than for the welfare of the public honor."

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich"; the second how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by the use of the sun, air, water, green grass, eating Green's August Flower. Should you be a dependent sufferer from any of the effects of the heat, sunstroke, headache, fainting, etc., etc., seek medical advice. Dr. T. E. Powers, etc., etc., need not suffer further. The dose of the well known August Flower will relieve you at once. Go to J. J. Wood & Son, Mayville, and get a sample of this rare, regular size 72 cents. (See Green's Price Almanac.)

HOW IT IS DONE.

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich"; the second how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by the use of the sun, air, water, green grass, eating Green's August Flower. Should you be a dependent sufferer from any of the effects of the heat, sunstroke, headache, fainting, etc., etc., seek medical advice. Dr. T. E. Powers, etc., etc., need not suffer further. The dose of the well known August Flower will relieve you at once. Go to J. J. Wood & Son, Mayville, and get a sample of this rare, regular size 72 cents. (See Green's Price Almanac.)

ever heard from him was in the words: "I like to have Caleb something of an invalid. I like to play I was helping somebody but I don't know as much as he will let me. I'm too big a man to be doing nothing for anybody, from day's end to day's end."

His fondness for "doing something for somebody" reminds one of the services he has rendered Stubbfield, the attorney general, who was severely maimed against him was secured with an artificial leg. Stubbfield was shown upon the trial to be an immoral and utterly unreliable and untruthful man. When he was wounded in Clay county in the early spring of 1890 not one of his men could be found to nurse him save Jim Redwine, who declared "wasn't human to leave any man in that fix without a nurse."

For thirty-five days and nights Stubbfield was absolutely dependent upon that man for every drink of water he had, for every touch upon the bandages, which this "desperado" handled for him when the doctor who visited him shrank from the task because of the loathsome corruption of the wounds.

GENERAL BELIEF.

One of Jim Howard's Jurors lately asserted in answer to a question: "We didn't believe in the man against him. We didn't need that. We convicted him on our general belief."

Traces of this Juror's "general belief" linger in the public mind, as a result of The Courier-Journal's persistency and the activity of the indefatigable Thomas C. Campbell, The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, of Oct. 5, 1900, carried a long article with the contention that Howard had killed outright or caused to be killed from ambush scores of men, and its closing words were: "Jim Howard knows no law but the law of the Winchester."

Such articles influence the public mind as to the family's financial status, concerning George Baker, whom Howard killed: "Was he not an old man, unarmed, with his hands up, begging you for God's sake to spare him?" influenced, or may be supposed to have influenced, the Jury.

After The Post-Dispatch article, Jim Howard gave to the public his story of his trial, and the fact that he was not at that moment heard of the murder of his brother and his foster-brother, and as he believed, of his father, shot from ambush and left on the road. His brother, wounded to death, but not dead, called to his murderers "not to torture him before he died; not to shoot the flesh from his bones," while he lay dying.

Jim Howard tried to go to his death and dying. George Baker stood between them in the road. He shot him and passed on to the mutilated bodies of his dead, and to give his young strength to his sorely wounded father, whom he found to be alive.

This is the one charge that can be brought against him, and few men would be ashamed of his record in this matter. He is in no respect the rough, untidy "bad man" he is represented by the press of the presentation, with the stark and ghastly record of an unkind man, of good address and fine bearing. His speech is the careful, forcible English of a man who thinks more than he talks. His favorite books are Blackstone and the Bible, and Caleb Powers' companion ship and advice. He is reading law in the little upper room of his home.

At the time of his arrest he was Assessor of Clay county. Before that he had been Deputy Sheriff. He is respected by his neighbors, loved by his friends and adored by his family.

When such a man is arrested for purely political purposes, given trial by a military tribunal, and held for a year in a jail that is a shame to civilization it would seem that his defense became a public right and that money troubles should not add to the burden of his imprisonment and the inevitable anxieties of his condition. His wife and his known home to pray for their absent father, should not be tortured with fears lest the roof above them must be sold for their support and that father be deprived of any right for lack of money.

A Lexington gentleman, who had discovered the financial difficulties of Kentucky's Prisoners of State, said on the night Joe Jefferson played in Lexington:

"Joe Jefferson will carry out of town more money than is necessary to make these men comfortable in preparing their defense, and the press has never failed to point out when people care for pure pleasures; but it seems to me a sorrowful thing when they care more for pleasure than for the welfare of the public honor."

STEAMBOAT SANK.

City of Paducah Struck a Snag and Went Down in Less Than Five Minutes.

FIFTEEN PERSONS WERE DROWNED.

Among the Lost Were Nine Negro Roustabouts; But Seven People Escaped With Their Lives.

ONLY THE TEXAS AND THE HURRICANE DECK ARE ABOVE WATER, AND THE VESSEL APPEARS TO BE A TOTAL WRECK.

Carrabelle, Ill., May 14.—The City of Paducah, a Mississippi river packet, was sunk near Brunkhorst landing about four miles north of Grand Tower, about 12 o'clock Sunday night. Between 25 and 30 people are drowned. Only seven escaped with their lives. The City of Paducah had loaded sand bags morning on a downward trip and stopped at Moss Landing and loaded on freight, most of which was corn. Between 11 and 12 o'clock Miss Fannie Block, who, in company with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Block, was going from St. Louis to Paducah, awoke from sleep by a sudden jolt. She asked her mother if her berth had broken down, and no sooner had the words passed her lips than water rushed into the apartments and they were compelled to act quickly to save their lives. They were able to get ashore to the Illinois shore by climbing onto driftwood and swimming. The seven saved are Jews. Rev. Block is a Jewish rabbi.

Frank White, whose home is in Kansas City, told the following story of the accident:

"I got on the boat at Landing 70 to go to Cairo. The boat stopped at Lake Ditch landing and took on several sacks of corn. We landed again at Brunkhorst, which is only a few miles below Lake Ditch, and took on corn.

BIG HOLE IN EYE SIDE.

At both places about 17 sacks were loaded. After the corn at Brunkhorst's had been placed on board the boat started down stream, and just as she put off struck a snag, tearing a big hole in her.

"The crew then tried to place the stern of the boat toward the river, and while turning her around she sank. She is about 30 feet from shore, and her cabin and pilot house are above water. I jumped into a skiff and made to shore.

"We do not know how many were aboard, but there were about 25 drowned. Among them were engineers, one white woman, and about 15 Negroes. There was great confusion, and it may be that more are drowned."

Thomas Johnston, of St. Louis, watchman of the boat, who is said to be in his forties, was 60 years old, and had been steamboating for 60 years. He lived in St. Louis.

The City of Paducah was in charge of Capt. D. W. Kirkpatrick of Carrollton, Ky., who was her commander from the day she was launched in 1891. The officers are John Street, pilot, J. M. Tamm, engineer, and Jim Scott, second clerk; Henry Lee, steward; Rue Royal, first mate.

NAMES OF THE DEAD.

St. Louis, May 14.—The first authentic information concerning the wreck of the steamer City of Paducah, of the St. Louis Tennessee River Packet Co., which occurred at Brunkhorst landing, in Illinois, was obtained upon the arrival of the steamer City of Clifton at this port at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Fifteen persons lost their lives in the awful catastrophe, six whites and nine blacks.

The dead—Dr. J. W. Bell, of Caledonia, Tenn.; Miss Isabel Gardner, of St. Louis; Charles Johnson, aged 84, dock watchman; Frank Gardner, Texas second, of Paducah, Ky.; Two white firemen, names unknown; Grant Woods, colored, boat maker; eight colored roustabouts, names unknown.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLERS.

Carlos and Ramon Julia, Postmaster and Assistant at Juana Diaz, P. R., Arrested.

Ponce, P. R., May 14.—Carles and Ramon Julia, respectively postmaster and assistant postmaster at Juana Diaz, have been arrested on the charge of embezzlement. The amount involved is not mentioned. Inspector Smith, of the U. S. post office, says the post office at Juana Diaz should have a balance of $932. No cash was on hand. The bondsmen of the prisoners will reimburse the government in full. The Julias issued money orders on credit before receiving the cash, and it is believed they charged their customers a commission.

CAN PRACTICE IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Washington, May 14.—Twenty-one attorneys will be admitted to practice in the United States supreme court Monday. The number included Hon. James R. Garfield, son of the late President Garfield; the attorney generals of Illinois and Colorado, also Attorney General, West of Kansas, and one applicant from Honolulu.

WILL TRY A NEW PLAN.

London, May 14.—According to a dispatch from Pictersburg to the Daily Mail, Lord Kitchener is about to try a new plan of burning the veldt in order to compel the Boers to surrender.

SHAMROCK II TESTED.

She Was Beaten By the Old Shamrock Five Minutes Over a 20-Mile Course at Weymouth.

Weymouth, May 14.—The Shamrock I beat the Shamrock II, by five minutes of a 20-mile course.

The test was made in fresh weather and a high sea was running, with brisk wind accompaniment when the two yachts started over the trial course.

Amaurots on board the challenger were inclined to be despondent over the results of Monday's race. One who holds out against this feeling, however, argues that the conditions of the race were such that the Shamrock I did nothing surprising in winning.

Mr. Watson considers Monday's results so unsatisfactory that he has decided offhand to take the new boat back to Southampton and to have her repaired before the trials when any of the plates were displaced by the grounding on Deau bank last week.

Opportunity will be taken to have her new gaff and mizzenfall fitted. The work will proceed night and day until it is finished and the trials will then be resumed at Weymouth.

PORTO RICO EXHIBIT.

Was Seized on Arrival at the Pan-American Exposition Grounds, Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 14.—The exhibit of Porto Rico, which arrived at the Pan-American grounds, has been seized by Collector of Customs Henry W. Brendel. The material was seized because it was unshipped and transported and was unloaded in the navy yard at Brooklyn, thus escaping inspection at any customs office. All the exhibits buildings at the Pan-American grounds are practically condemned warehouses. A careful record is kept of every article received there. The sanitary inspectors discovered that no warehouse entry had been made for the Porto Rico goods and the materials, including two cars which were being loaded for re-export for Boston and eastern points, was seized. The goods will not be confiscated as smuggled goods, but will be held pending an investigation.

EXCITING BALL GAME.

Cubans Beat the Americans By Score of 11 to 10 at Santiago-Almost a Riot.

Santiago de Cuba, May 14.—There was an exciting ball game between the Americans and Cubans here. The Cubans won by the score of 11 to 10. The Americans were led by a team which followed, hundreded crowded on the field and a jubilant Cuban attempted to pull down the American flag to half-mast. The American players interfered, and a lively scene followed. A squad of ruffians drew their revolvers and shot at the crowd, crying "Viva la Bandera Americana." Long live the American flag.

The guards arrested the offender, who disclaimed intentional disrespect to the flag, and said it was a thought less joke. He was released. No one was seriously hurt.

THEY DEMUR.

Chinese Astonished at the Amount of Indemnity Demanded and Urge a Reduction.

London, May 14.—Dr. Morrison wired to the Times from Peking May 10, says:

"The Chinese plenipotentiaries are drafting a reply to the minister of foreign affairs, who has demanded at the amount of indemnity demanded and urging a reduction on the ground of the empire's financial difficulties but undertaking, if the full amount is exacted, to pay in 30 annual installments of 15,000,000 taels from the Likiu, salt tax and native customs."

FLOWER CARNIVAL

An Immense Bouquet Erected in Honor of the President at San Jose, Cal.

WAS NINETY FEET IN CIRCUMFERENCE.

Its Stem Was a Telegraph Pole and Stood in Its Frame Twenty-Five Feet High.

Composed of Cut Flowers of Every Variety That Blossom—Were to Have Been Presented to Mrs. McKinley.

San Jose, Calif., May 14.—Thousands of people between Delmonte and San Jose, who have been anticipating a sight of the president for months, were disappointed Monday. The president's presence in San Jose for an hour Monday afternoon took the eyes of all the citizens, but when the rose carnival was held in his honor, and where the floral display surpassed anything ever before seen in that part of the country. After leaving Delmonte Monday morning, the tall stem of the flower display was originally planned, stopping at Delmonte and Santa Cruz, and visiting the big trees in the San Lorenzo valley, but they had no time to put into the festivities in the absence of their chief and the keen regret of the people was written on their countenances.

Many expressions of kindly sympathy for Mrs. McKinley were heard at each stopping place. At Santa Cruz Secretary of State Hay was the representative of the president to the address of welcome made by the mayor.

The President's Arrival.

The president's presence here barely saved the day. He ran down from San Francisco in his special car, arriving here just as the cabin train pulled into the city from the south, but he only remained for the formal exercises, which began when they were concluded, and he driven back to the station, and left immediately for San Francisco. At St. James square, opposite the court house, a handsomely decorated stand had been erected, and here the formal exercises were held. In the rear of the stand was the big bouquet of which so much has been heard. It was 90 feet in circumference and stood in its frame 25 feet high. The stem was a telegraph pole sunk in the ground. It was composed of cut flowers of every variety that blossomed.

Regrets for Mrs. McKinley's Illness.

The idea of presenting this immense floral offering to Mrs. McKinley originated with the ladies of San Jose and the presentation was made to the president by Mrs. E. O. Smith, who expressed tender words of regret for her queen's recovery. The members of the cabinet took the long drive through the orchards of the Santa Clara valley, which had been planned for the president, visiting on the way the Jesuit college at Santa Clara and the University of the Pacific.

Great preparations had been made along the route to receive the president, and the disappointment at not seeing him was very keen.

Monday a big reception had been planned for the president at the Venetian hotel, and the programme was carried out. The members of the cabinet and ladies of the party all attended the function.
